Oil & Gas

Enhance Every Possibility

Oil and Gas Industry Heavily Involved With Research & Development

Such an industry like Oil & Gas has to be able to develop new and innovated ways to stay competitive. Other areas of the industry are driving your company to become as economically resourceful as possible. Having set requirements enable you to create, and develop new process to match competition.

Examples of Eligible SR&ED activities: (Oil & Gas Industry)

- Development of new software for plant engineering, construction and operations.
- Manufacturing rubber-to-metal bonded parts and moulded rubber components for anti-vibration and shock protection.
- Development of hydraulic and electric traction and storage winches, A-Frames, flexible pipe laying systems, chain tensioners, electric and automation engineering.

If you find your company currently takes part in any of these activities, then why wait to take advantage of the SR&ED tax credit program to receive healthy credit for your innovations?

You are only a few steps away from getting what your company truly deserves for creating, innovating, and developing new products and/or processes

The Scientific Research and Experimental Development Program:

SR&ED incentives take the form of tax credits, and accelerated or additional tax deductions for expenditures made on research and development. Canadian businesses of all sizes, in all sectors are eligible to receive SR&ED tax credits. The incentives range from 20% of the expenditure, to almost 50% in favorable circumstances.

SR&ED expenditures can include wages, materials, machinery, equipment, overheads, and SR&ED contracts.
